ATTEMPTS EAST-WEST FLIGHT

Captain Walter Hinchcliffe, who departed from Cranwell, England, on a mystery flight to cross the Atlantic to America.

HINCHCLIFFE BELIEVED DUE FROM ENGLAND

Take-Off Shrouded In Mystery—May Have Met Storms

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, March 14.—At 8:40 this morning, (E. S. T.), twenty-nine hours after Walter Hinchcliffe took off from England on his attempt to fly the Atlantic, no word had been received here of his progress since he left the Irish coast. Weather conditions last night were perfect for a plane approaching from the east.

A close lookout for Hinchcliffe was being kept all up and down the coast of Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, and the fishing fleets had been asked to report any sighting of his plane.

While it had been estimated that Hinchcliffe would be sighted on this side of the Atlantic within twenty-four to twenty-eight hours of his departure from England, officials pointed out that adverse winds in mid-Atlantic might have delayed the Stinson-Detroler during the night.

LONDON, March 14.—(2:45 P. M.)—Thirty hours have now elapsed since Capt. Walter Hinchcliffe and his "mystery passenger" hoped off at Cranwell Airfield on a trans-Atlantic flight to America, and the absence of any definite news as to the plane's whereabouts is giving rise to anxiety.

Even allowing for strong headwinds over the North Atlantic, it was estimated that Hinchcliffe's American-built monoplane should have reached the Newfoundland coast by early this afternoon. Harvey Lloyd, Hinchcliffe's London agent, frankly admitted that he was greatly worried over the absence of news.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Determined to be the first fliers to span the northern Atlantic in an east to west flight, Captain Walter R. Hinchcliffe, intrepid British "Ace," and the Hon. Elsie MacKaye, daughter of Lord Inchcape, today were believed to be winging their way towards America in the gold-winged Stinson monoplane in which they hopped off from Cranwell Airfield, England at 8:40 a. m. yesterday.

According to a dispatch from Halifax, N. S., the plane should be nearing the coast of Newfoundland this morning. The Halifax Dispatch stated that the French liner Roussillon, which sailed from that city for New York at 7:30 last night, reported picking up a wireless message from another ship which reported sighting a "large plane flying westward" when four days out of Bordeaux. The name of the ship was not disclosed.

The plane's take-off yesterday was veiled in a shroud of mystery, neither its ultimate destination nor the identity of Hinchcliffe's companion being divulged.

Later it was learned that the plane was making a transatlantic flight attempt and that the second person in the plane was not Gordon Sinclair, as was thought at first, but none other than Miss Elsie MacKaye, daughter of one of England's richest peers, and an experienced aviator.

The fliers should encounter the most favorable weather conditions possible at this time of the year, according to the navy bureau of aeronautics at Washington.

The fliers are expected to encounter only two storms of moderate intensity which they might easily avoid by flying slightly north of the usual route. All winds along the shipping lanes and slightly to the north of them are reported to be blowing from the East, and hence they should help rather than hinder the fliers.

Weather reports from Newfoundland today were favorable. When the fliers reach the Newfoundland coast, they are not expected to encounter anything more serious than light northwest winds.

Just where the flight will end, if successful, is doubtful. According to Mrs. Hinchcliffe, her husband told her Mitchell Field, L. I., was his goal. It is generally regarded more likely that Hinchcliffe will land at Harbor Grace Airport, Newfoundland.

All radio stations on the Atlantic seaboard entered an indefinite "standby" period at midnight in an effort to intercept messages from ships which might have sighted the plane.

MADE ARBITRATOR
WARSAW, March 14.—Former Polish Foreign Minister Count Skrzynski has accepted the post of arbitrator of the Peruvian-Chilean territorial dispute offered by Secretary of State Kellogg, and will soon sail for the United States it was learned today.

CHEAPER COMING HOME DOVER, O., March 14.—Three miles would seem to be three miles, either way you take it, but people in this vicinity were aware today that sometimes there's a difference.

It's three miles from Dover to New Philadelphia and it costs a nickel to make the trip on a trolley car. But last night the Dover city council granted the N. O. P. & L. Company a fare increase, effective April 11. The New Philadelphia council has not yet taken such action.

As a result, after April 11, it will cost a dime for a ride to New Philadelphia, but only a nickel for the return trip.

NORRIS ACT PASSES SENATE; PROVIDES FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

Badly Battered Resolution Now Reaches House

WASHINGTON, March 14.—After a ten year fight the Norris resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals was sent to the house today, somewhat battered, but essentially the same as when first evolved by its author.

The measure, as passed by a vote of 48 to 25 in the senate, provided:

- 1.—That the government manufacture electric power at Muscle Shoals.
- 2.—That experiments in the manufacture of fertilizer be carried on at nitrate plant number 2 and that this plant be operated at capacity when the best method of producing fertilizer has been determined.
- 3.—That power not necessary to the manufacture of fertilizer be sold to municipalities and corporations.
- 4.—That $10,000,000 be authorized to be appropriated for conducting the fertilizer experiments.

The house is already considering one plan for disposition of the giant power project at Muscle Shoals. Its military affairs committee has under consideration the Willis-Madden bill for leasing Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid Company. A vote is expected to be reached on this measure tomorrow.

FRANCE WILL PAY
PARIS, March 14.—France will make another $30,000,000 payment of the French war debt to the United States next week, it was stated today.

CURTISS FIELD OFFICERS ARE PREPARING FOR HINCHCLIFFE

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., March 14.—Flying officers at this field, where preparations are being made to receive Captain Walter Hinchcliffe if he succeeds in his attempt to cross the Atlantic from London, estimated today that the English flier would be able to stay in the air from thirty-five to forty hours. It was said that the Stinson-Detroler in which Hinchcliffe is traveling uses about 11 1/2 gallons of gasoline an hour. It carried approximately 450 gallons, which would give it a cruising time of exactly forty hours. However, it was stated, cross or head winds probably would cut this time down to some extent.

No anxiety is felt here it was said, and none will be felt until late this afternoon, if the plane is still unreported at that time.

NEWSPAPER MEN ARE BARRED FROM DEATH HOUSE AT MONTREAL

Ordered Issued As McDonald Hangings Draw Near

MONTREAL, Que., March 14.—Premier Taschereau of the province of Quebec announced today that in the future only the sheriff, the hangman and religious advisers of condemned persons will be allowed to attend executions. No newspaper men will be permitted to witness hangings nor will the death jury be taken on the scene until the actual hanging is completed.

The new order goes into effect today and will include the execution of George and Doris McDonald at Valley Field on March 23. "We have given much thought to this matter," Premier Taschereau told International News Service, "and have come to the conclusion that the practice which prevails in England should also be followed here."

The scene of action in the fight to save Doris McDonald from the gallows shifted today to the Canadian capital, Ottawa. There J. A. Legault, her trial attorney, will make an impassioned plea for the life of his client.

Mr. Legault, K. C., counsel for the McDonalds, Legault will present new evidence on behalf of the former Mr. Vernon, N. Y., and Oklahoma girl, who is now occupying a cell in the Montreal Jail.

Following today's clemency effort in Ottawa, Montreal, will again be the scene of efforts to save Doris McDonald from the gallows. Ministers of Justice Hon. Ernest Lapointe and Hon. Ernest Lapointe will endeavor to get McDonald to sign an affidavit telling of the parts played by each at the scene of the murder.

FIGHTS FOR GIRL

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14.—Another scene will be enacted today in the fight to save Doris McDonald from death on the gallows. Minister of Justice Hon. Ernest Lapointe will meet J. A. Legault, K. C., counsel for the McDonalds. Legault will present new evidence on behalf of the former Mr. Vernon, N. Y., and Oklahoma girl, who is now occupying a cell in the Montreal Jail.

SON OF COLUMBUS CITY HALL INSPECTOR SHOTS HIMSELF

COLUMBUS, O., March 14.—Suicide was the cause assigned today by Coroner J. A. Murphy for the death of Clement Walter, 30, whose body was found, with a bullet in the head, in the treasurer's office at City Hall at 1:29 o'clock this morning. Walter was the son of City Building Inspector Bert Walter.

Elmer L. Jenkins, city treasurer, and a colored janitor were the only other persons in the building at the time of the shooting, police believe. Treasurer Jenkins said Walter was in his office and that he (Jenkins) was in another room working on an income tax when he heard a shot.

Walter's body was discovered, slumped in a chair, a .45 calibre Massillon hardware, former Canton detective, were also subsequently given life sentences. Louis Mazer, "underworld king," who turned state's evidence against Streitenberger, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter.

McDermott, in his recent story of the manner in which the militant Canton publisher was killed, said that Streitenberger and Mazer did the shooting. He says, however, that Rudner introduced him to Mazer and the former is thus equally implicated, Harter believes.

Prosecutor Harter did not talk with any of the prisoners, but conferred at length with Warden P. E. Thomas at the penitentiary. Thomas told him that, in his opinion, most of McDermott's story is true.

Coroner Charles Mayfield announced that the bodies of the children would not further be disturbed. It was suggested Orville's body also be exhumed for analysis, but Coroner Mayfield denies that this will be done.

William Sims, an uncle of the dead boys, who was stricken with apparently the same mysterious malady that killed his nephews, was reported slightly better today. His condition, however, is still said to be critical.

WANT PLANE BASE
DUBLIN, March 14.—German shipping interests have opened negotiations with the Free State government for a seaplane base on the west coast, it was learned today. It is planned to have "flying boats" connect with German liners at sea.

WILL HOLD INQUEST OF MYSTERY DEATHS
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., March 14.—Coroner's inquest into the mysterious death of Orville and Richard Bohle, aged two and four years respectively, is scheduled to be held here late today.

Dr. Ralph Webster of Rush Medical College, Chicago, reported yesterday that no abnormal amount of oxalic acid had been found in the vital organs of Richard, sent to him for examination.

Coroner Charles Mayfield announced that the bodies of the children would not further be disturbed. It was suggested Orville's body also be exhumed for analysis, but Coroner Mayfield denies that this will be done.

Governor Directs Relief Work—Rescuers Know Of 250 Dead And Expect To Find 250 More In Mud—Property Damage Twelve Millions

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—While hundreds of grief-stricken and hysterical relatives stormed crude morgues in half a dozen towns in the Santa Clara Valley today seeking loved ones, the death toll in the San Francisco Canyon dam disaster mounted to 500 estimated dead and $12,000,000 property loss.

"We already know of some 250 dead in various sections of the valley," said Under-Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, in charge of the Newhall-Saugus sector, "and we expect to find that many more when we start digging in the mud and silt. All we did yesterday was to pick up bodies which were in sight along the river bank."

Hour by hour a new horror attending the disaster was revealed as relief work got under way and drastic sanitary measures were enacted to halt possible pestilence.

DEBRIS BURNED
All during the night beacon-like figures glowed through the drizzle of rain that fell in the valley as dead work animals and wreckage was burned.

Governor C. C. Young, who arrived at Santa Paula late yesterday, expected to remain there today to advise and assist in relief work.

Bodies of victims were being assembled at various cities, towns and hamlets in and on the fringe of Santa Clara Valley. At Fillmore were 49 bodies, at Newhall 48, at Santa Paula 32, at Moor Park 51, at Ventura 6, at Piru 9, at Salico 5, at Castale 10, at Casta Junction 5, at Oxnard 2.

SEARCH INTERRUPTED
The search for bodies practically stopped at nightfall last evening.

COOLIDGE INTERESTED
WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Coolidge expressed his sympathetic interest today in the California flood disaster, and proffered any governmental relief agencies that may be required.

The president called Senator Shortridge (R) of California, to the White House and discussed the situation with him. Shortridge told the president he did not think there was anything the government could do at this stage.

Walter's body was discovered, slumped in a chair, a .45 calibre Massillon hardware, former Canton detective, were also subsequently given life sentences. Louis Mazer, "underworld king," who turned state's evidence against Streitenberger, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter.

FLOODED AREA

Santa Clara Valley disaster in California, inundated by water from broken dam, San Francisco valley was saved from the flood by a mountain ridge, which diverted the water down the Santa Clara river.

ly on the spectacle of death and devastation, huge bonfires still flared in the flood swept valley and gorges of San Francisco Canyon.

RED CROSS BUSY
Red Cross flags, hoisted atop improvised hospitals, marked havens of refuge for the sick and injured while other sufferers slept in tents pitched on the hill sides.

And with only a small percentage of those recovered so far identified there is the possibility of duplication in reports for the number of unidentified dead.

At Moor Park, where forty-one bodies have been brought, fourteen corpses, black with mud and unrecognizable, were laid out in the rear of the drug store which has been converted into a morgue for the reception of all bodies found in the south side of the Santa Clara river.

To facilitate the task of identifying the dead at Newhall, where forty-eight bodies have been brought to the Masonic hall, a numbered tag is attached to each corpse as it is received at the temporary morgue.

PARIS, March 14.—Gana Walska, Polish singer and wife of Harold McCormick, of Chicago, will soon appear in a speaking role in a play that has been written for her by Regis Gignoux. She said her husband approved her plans. She plans to return to grand opera later.

SENATE INQUIRY IS TURNED UPON BONDS HANDLED BY UPHAM

Former Secretary of Dead Treasurer Is Summoned

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The senatorial inquiry into the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 liberty bond "slush fund" centered today on the $60,000 in bonds handled by the late Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, in Chicago.

The senate public lands committee called A. V. Leonard, Upham's former secretary, while directing a subcommittee, composed of senators Nye (R) of N. Dak. and Bratton (D) of N. Mex., to leave this afternoon to examine thirty-nine witnesses in Chicago. Among them Samuel Insull, ex-Governor M. Reynolds, Julius Rosenwald, Albert D. Lasker, and William Wrigley, Jr., all noted Republicans "angels."

The senate as a body meanwhile discussed without reserve the testimony given the committee by Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, Republican national chairman William M. Butler and Will H. Hays, the movie czar who handled Harry F. Sinclair's bond offerings in 1923. Their testimony revealed that there are probable sensations yet to come in the already sensational liberty bond exposure.

Mellon revealed that the treasury department is planning action against Sinclair and his associates in the Continental Trading Company for recovery of income taxes never paid and now long overdue. This action probably will involve Harry M. Blackmer, who fled to Europe after getting $750,000 of the Continental bonds, and James E. O'Neil, who also went abroad after getting $800,000 of the bonds. The Ku Klux Klan was drawn into discussion by the statement of Senator Thomas J. Walsh (D) of Montana, that evidence would be produced indicating that the Republicans paid $100,000 to Edward V. Clarke, head of the hooded order, in 1920. Whether this payment was made to gain Klan support for the Republicans or for some other purpose was not revealed.

SON OF COLUMBUS CITY HALL INSPECTOR SHOOTS HIMSELF

COLUMBUS, O., March 14.—Suicide was the cause assigned today by Coroner J. A. Murphy for the death of Clement Walter, 39, whose body was found with a bullet in the head, in the treasurer's office at City Hall at 1:20 o'clock this morning. Walter was the son of City Building Inspector Bert Walter.

Elmer L. Jenkins, city treasurer, and a colored janitor were the only other persons in the building at the time of the shooting, police believed. Treasurer Jenkins said Walter was in his office and that the janitor was in another room working on an income tax when he heard a shot.

Walter's body was discovered slumped in a chair, a .45 calibre pistol, which Jenkins kept in his desk, lying near him. Three bullets had been fired from the gun. One was found in the wall and another had entered Walter's head. No motive for suicide has been ascertained.

Stark county prosecutor, who visited the shooting, apparently believed McDermott was convicted of complicity in the killing on Christmas eve of 1926. Rudner, former Massillon hardware merchant and Floyd Streitenberger, former Canton detective, were also subsequently given life sentences. Louis Mazer, "underworld king," who turned state's evidence against Streitenberger, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter.

McDermott, in his recent story of the manner in which the militant Canton publisher was killed, says that Rudner introduced him to Mazer and the former is thus equally implicated, Harter believes.

Prosecutor Harter did not talk with any of the prisoners, but conferred at length with Warden P. E. Thomas at the penitentiary. Thomas told him that, in his opinion, most of McDermott's story is true.

Coroner Charles Mayfield announced that the bodies of the children would not further be disturbed. It was suggested Orville's body also be exhumed for analysis, but Coroner Mayfield denies that this will be done.

William Sims, an uncle of the dead boys, who was stricken with apparently the same mysterious malady that killed his nephews, was reported slightly better today. His condition, however, is still said to be critical.

Louis Mazer, "underworld king," who turned state's evidence against Streitenberger, was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter.

McDermott, in his recent story of the manner in which the militant Canton publisher was killed, says that Rudner introduced him to Mazer and the former is thus equally implicated, Harter believes.

Prosecutor Harter did not talk with any of the prisoners, but conferred at length with Warden P. E. Thomas at the penitentiary. Thomas told him that, in his opinion, most of McDermott's story is true.

Coroner Charles Mayfield announced that the bodies of the children would not further be disturbed. It was suggested Orville's body also be exhumed for analysis, but Coroner Mayfield denies that this will be done.

William Sims, an uncle of the dead boys, who was stricken with apparently the same mysterious malady that killed his nephews, was reported slightly better today. His condition, however, is still said to be critical.

Governor Directs Relief Work—Rescuers Know Of 250 Dead And Expect To Find 250 More In Mud —Property Damage Twelve Millions

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—While hundreds of grief-stricken and hysterical relatives stormed crude morgues in half a dozen towns in the Santa Clara Valley today seeking loved ones, the death toll in the San Francisquito Canyon dam disaster mounted to 500 estimated dead and $12,000,000 property loss.

"We already know of some 250 dead in various sections of the valley," said Under-Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, in charge of the Newhall-Saugus sector, "and we expect to find that many more when we start digging in the mud and silt. All we did yesterday was to pick up bodies which were in sight along the river bank."

Hour by hour a new horror attending the disaster was revealed as relief work got under way and drastic sanitary measures were enforced to halt possible pestilence.

DEBRIS BURNED
All during the night beacon-like figures glowed through the drizzle of rain that fell in the valley as dead work animals and wreckage was burned.

Governor C. C. Young, who arrived at Santa Paula late yesterday expected to remain there today to advise and assist in relief work. Bodies of victims were being ascertained. More than 300 other persons, driven from their homes, camped at various cities, towns and hamlets in and on the fringe of Santa Clara Valley. At Fillmore were 49 bodies, at Newhall 48, at Santa Paula 32, at Moor Park 51, at Ventura 6, at Piru 9, at Salico 5, at Castale 16, at Castale Junction 5, at Santa Paula 32.

SEARCH INTERRUPTED
The search for bodies practically stopped at nightfall last evening. Although medical authorities saw little possibility of pestilence diseases taking a grip on the flood survivors, sanitary measures were adopted immediately to prevent a further death toll in the stricken area.

COOLIDGE INTERESTED
WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Coolidge expressed his sympathetic interest today in the California flood disaster, and proffered any governmental relief agencies that may be required.

The president called Senator Shortridge (R) of California, to the White House and discussed the situation with him. Shortridge told the president he did not think there was anything the government could do at this stage.

Walter's body was discovered slumped in a chair, a .45 calibre pistol, which Jenkins kept in his desk, lying near him. Three bullets had been fired from the gun. One was found in the wall and another had entered Walter's head. No motive for suicide has been ascertained.

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—The spectre of pestilence hovered over flood devastated Santa Clara Valley today as an army of armed workers, worn and saddened by the grim spectacle of the last twenty-four hours, returned to their task of recounting the dead and taking stock of losses in the St. Francis dam catastrophe.

MANY IN MORGUES
When the sun came last night, the bodies of more than 200 victims lay in improvised morgues which dotted the desolate area.

TRUAX CLEARED BY DONAHEY'S PROBE

COLUMBUS, O., March 14.—That all of the accusations made against Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, which have been investigated under direction of Governor Vic Donahey proved to be "unsubstantiated" was the announcement made here today by the governor to newspaper men.

The governor stated, however, that his investigation into other charges relative to claims that Truax had been guilty of personal and official misconduct was not yet completed.

Donahy promised that Truax "will receive a square deal" in the governor's probe.

Friends of Truax today joined with the agricultural director in predicting that the governor's investigation will terminate in the exoneration of Truax from all the accusations.

OHIO ROAD AGENTS ROB BUS DRIVER

MT. STERLING, O., March 14.—Days of the "road agent" and precarious overland travel were recalled here today when Marshal Beathard reported that three unmasked bandits held up a Buckeye stage driver and a barbed stand operator, at Deercreek curve, near here, shortly after midnight.

The three men armed visited the barbed stand of Fred Young, and after buying sandwiches turned their guns upon him and relieved him of his night's receipts of $20.

One of the men carried a rifle, the others carried pistols. He was held up and robbed of about $10. The bandits escaped in a tattered touring car in the direction of Columbus. One of the men carried a rifle, the others carried pistols.

FLOODED AREA

Santa Clara Valley disaster. California, inundated by water from broken dam, San Francisco valley was saved from the flood by a mountain ridge, which diverted the water down the Santa Clara river.

ly on the spectacle of death and devastation, huge bonfires still flared in the flood swept valley and gorges of San Francisquito Canyon.

RED CROSS BUSY
Red Cross flags hoisted atop improvised hospitals, marked havens of refuge for the sick and injured while other sufferers slept in tents pitched on the hill sides.

And with only a small percentage of those recovered so far identified there is the possibility of duplication in reports for the number of unidentified dead.

At Moor Park, where forty-one bodies have been brought, fourteen corpses, black with mud and unrecognizable, were laid out in the rear of the drug store which has been converted into a morgue for reception of all bodies found in the south side of the Santa Clara river.

To facilitate the task of identifying the dead at Newhall, where forty-eight bodies have been brought to the Masonic hall, a numbered tag is attached to each corpse as it is received at the temporary morgue.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold. Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 12 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

ARREST OF FIVE YOUTHS CLEARS
THREE FARM HOUSE BURGLARIES

Robberies of three farm houses near Xenia within the last month are believed to have been cleared up with the arrest of five youths ranging from 18 to 20 years in age.

Confessions are said to have been obtained from the suspects Tuesday afternoon. The youths gave their names as Edgar Perrin, 20, Hook Road; Lawrence Thomas, 19, Stone Road; Lester Rhinesperger, 19, W. Third St.; and Russell Dean, 18, living off the Jamestown Pike, east of Xenia.

Rhinesperger, Mangan and Perrin were arrested Tuesday afternoon as a result of an intensive investigation conducted by the sheriff's office. The other two boys were brought in by their parents.

Wednesday, prosecutor J. C. Marshall announced the fine would probably be charged with theft, possibly in juvenile court.

Confessions are said to have been obtained from the boys that a major portion of their loot was concealed at the home of a relative of Perrin near Hillsboro, where it was taken in an auto Monday night.

Part of the stolen goods was thrown from the machine south of Xenia on a road connecting the Cincinnati and New Burlington pikes, and was recovered Tuesday. It included two pistols, a shotgun, a flashlight and a sheepskin coat.

Deputies were scheduled to go to Hillsboro Wednesday to recover the remainder of the loot. The boys are said to have admitted to authorizing the theft of the goods.

Sport Scribes Pick All-Star League Teams

XENIA PLACES FOUR PLAYERS AMONG TWO OUTFITS SELECTED

Doak And Clemans On First Five Picked By Writers

By PHIL FRAME

Five of the six schools composing the Miami Valley League are represented on the first of the two mythical all-league basketball teams, picked for the Gazette by the sports writers of newspapers in the six cities.

The all-star teams presented for your approval differ in few respects from those chosen by the coaches of the six schools.

Xenia Central High School, which won the league championship, leads the schools with two players on the first team and two on the second. Piqua takes one place on the first team and one on the second, as does Sidney and Miamisburg. Troy gets one position on the first team. Greenville, which finished last, is the only school that failed to place a man on the all-league teams.

The teams were selected by votes cast by Jack Murray, of the Piqua Daily Call; Jack Miller, of the Troy Daily News; Paul O. Satterfield, of the Miamisburg News; E. C. Amos, of the Sidney Daily News; David Deardourff, of the Greenville Advocate and Phil of the Xenia Gazette.

There were many fine players in the league this season, and an attempt to select all-league teams must do some of them an injustice. These, however, should meet with general approval.

Collins, of Sidney, is undisputed choice for one forward position on the first team. He was a fine shot and had a "quick break" and a powerful drive for the basket. Doak of Xenia and Babbitt of Piqua tied for the other forward berth, and are consequently both selected. They were of the same type and had an unusual amount of cleverness. Babbitt was faster on the floor but perhaps not quite so "steady." Doak was the bright spot in Xenia's season. He was always a marked man but gave a good account of himself, nevertheless.

Captain Clemans, of Xenia, was an outstanding center. He was the most valuable cog in Xenia's machine. Always a strong defensive player, he had a wonderful basketball sense and was a good steady influence on the floor. He closed a brilliant basketball career with this season's play.

Libbee, of Miamisburg, was just about the "guardingest" guard of the year. He had all the "tough" assignments handed to him, and besides was a good long shot, usually leading his team in scoring. Counts, of Troy, a fast floor man and a good shot, would make a fine running mate for him.

Thus we have a first team that would not only be capable of winning the ball down the floor to the forwards but one that would count many points. The team has height, speed, strength and endurance.

The second team is not quite so strong but would still be a formidable combination. Morton of Xenia was a fast floor man and consistently good shot. Lloyd, Piqua, a regular center, is placed at forward. He is clever and a point-getter.

Heistand, of Miamisburg, a tall, well-built player, would be capable of getting the tip-off often and is also good on offense and defense. Gibney, Xenia, is the coming star of the season's play and valuable in every department. Taylor, Sidney, rounds out a strong second team.

No player was a unanimous choice for the first team. Collins and Libbee came the closest, each with twenty-eight out of a possible thirty points. Both had first team and one second team selections.

TAKE SALTS IF RHEUMATISM IS BOTHERING YOU

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts to Get Rid of Toxic Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

The first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

Connie Mack Pleased With Gardeners

Anticipates No Worry From Prima Donnas In Gardens

(Note—This is sixth of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with developments in various major league training camps. Other articles of the series will follow.)

By DAVIS J. WALSH

I. N. S. Sports Editor

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 13.—Well, it seems there were three men in a boat, if Berton Braley will only pardon me, and they got along so famously that when they lost their oars they all agreed to let the shad roe, which reminds me of the fact that Connie Mack also told a good one today. It was about three men in his outfield and the fact that there would be no clash of interests involving Tris Cobb, Tris Speaker and Al Simmons, prima donnas all.

This trio represents approximately $100,000 worth of outfielding temperament and between one thing and another, mostly the latter, they might be expected from time to time to regard one another slightly askance or maybe askew.

But Mr. Mack said today they wouldn't. It seems that he has solved the problem of pleasing everybody and affronting none by the simple expedient of letting Cobb, Speaker and Simmons go in to a huddle to decide amicably just which of the three fields they prefer to adorn.

"Speaker already has informed me that he stands ready to play left field, if Simmons prefers to remain in center," Mr. Mack said. "However, this is something they will have to settle among themselves. All of them are fine outfielders and fully capable of playing any of the three fields, so any alignment they agree upon will be all right with me."

Frankly, he probably has his own preferences but, at that, it is likely he has decided he would rather have peace in the family than Speaker in center field.

Speaker, if true, takes care of Speaker and Simmons. But Cobb is yet to be placated. He hasn't appeared in camp yet, having been given permission to remain in Augusta until late this week.

The fact of the matter is that Cobb doesn't want to play right field. This isn't mere caprice. He feels that he can give a much smoother performance in center, an idea that was more or less sustained in 1927. He proved a poor right fielder but a good man in center.

However, as Mr. Mack claims, this isn't a problem he faces. In fact, he has no problems. The outfit is just as sound as it was last year, which means there is really nothing to be done except to let nature take its course. The Athletics had a good club then; they probably have a better one now.

Connie cites four reasons why he thinks this is so, the first is Speaker.

"Tris still is a great ball player," he says, with the fervor of a zealot. "There isn't use of going into details. It is obvious that we can't go wrong on him."

Reason Number 2 is the fact that pennant talk is strictly taboo at the end of the season. At least that is that understanding. Maybe the bootlegger comes around on Saturday night with a brief case full of idle gossip, just off the ball, but officially all talk of pennants is out like an ex-window.

Reason Number 3 is the fact that Joe Hauser, according to Connie has proved beyond all argument, that he can and will come back as a first baseman. Number 4 takes cognizance of a slow curve Bob Grove is alleged to have added to his fast ball.

Otherwise, the Athletics are much the same ball club. Hauser, a fine first baseman a few years ago, now is said to look better than ever.

Jimmy Dykes is being considered in the light of a utility first baseman, also a utility third baseman in case Sammy Hale, the Texan, fails to click. Another two way utility man is Jimmy Fox. He is third catcher, also third first baseman and third third baseman which probably means that he will get in a ball game at least once a month.

The keystone pair are Max Bishop, the Baltimorean, and Joe Boloy, of Mahanoy City, Edward Trowbridge Collins almost is no more, except as a coach and pinch hitter. This was the infield personnel that Cornellius announced yesterday but today he became maudlin over the embryonic ability he had discerned in Joe Hassler, infielder from Port Smith, Ark., and Waterbury, Conn.

Cobb, Speaker and Simmons form the regular outfield with Walter French, Moorestown, N. J., and Edmund "Blind" Miller of Vinton, Iowa, as reserves. That means that DeWitt LeBourveau, the much tried-and-found-wanting Placerville, California, outfielder, is going far, far away again. So is George Haas, up from Atlanta.

Gordon Cochrane and Ralph Perkins are the other regular catchers in addition to Fox. They are equally strong in pitching with Howard Ehmke and Ed Rommel going particularly well at this moment. "The big" Johnson, Bethlehem, Pa., Ossie Orwell, the American Association star left hander and hitter; Jack Quinn, the ancient salivary gland; George Walberg, who has it in him to be the best left hander in the league; and old Joe Bush, back again where he started many years ago. Two more will be selected from among Claude Jonnard, up again from Milwaukee; Bob Potter, a left handed semi-pro; Lyons, another back lot pick-up; and Bill Shores, from Waco and Lloyd Powers, Hancock, Md., left handers. Powers, Lyons and Shores are leading the way in the juvenile stakes.

FAMOUS AUTOS TAKE SECOND VICTORY FROM BLOOMINGBURG

For the second time in two weeks, the Xenia Famous Auto Five defeated the Bloomingburg Independents 45 to 37 on the latter's floor Tuesday night.

The Xenia quintet merely toyed with the home team and won an easier victory than the score would indicate.

Xenia led 10 to 5 the first quarter and 22 to 11 at the half. Bloomingburg cut down the margin when Xenia relaxed somewhat in the third quarter, which ended in favor of the visitors, 26 to 24.

In the final quarter, Xenia speeded up its game and drew away once more.

Gegner and Smith were the offensive stars for Xenia, the former making eighteen points and the latter seventeen. The Auto Five played without the services of Bill LeSourd.

Rogers, substitute forward, was high-scoring for Bloomingburg with seventeen points. H. Parks, the other forward, contributed thirteen markers.

Announcement was made Wednesday that Cedarville College has cancelled its scheduled game with the Auto Five Wednesday night at Central High School gymnasium.

Because of a last-minute decision of some of the players to enter a team in an independent tournament on the Ross Twp. High School floor, which opened Wednesday.

One week ago the Xenia quintet swamped Bloomingburg on the local floor 65 to 24.

Xenia has arranged to play a return game with the Crystal Tissue team of Middletown next Wednesday night at Central High gym.

Three weeks ago Xenia defeated this team 56 to 47 in a high-scoring game at Middletown. The score:

FAMOUS AUTO FIVE. G. F. P. Vanorsdall, f. 2 0 4. Gegner, f. 8 2 18. Smith, c. 8 1 17. Leopold, f. 3 0 5. Yeakley, g. 0 0 0.

Totals. 21 3 45. BLOOMINGBURG. G. F. P. H. Parks, f. 6 1 13. Purcell, f. 1 0 2. Craig, c. 1 0 2. Biddle, g. 0 0 0. Yeoman, g. 0 0 0. Rogers, f. 8 1 17. Butz, g. 1 1 3.

Totals. 17 3 37. Referee—Spencer.

Colored Lad Piles Up 177 Points; Morton Second

Leroy Doak, sharp-shooting colored forward, was high-point man on the Xenia Central High School basketball squad during the season just closed, with a total of 177 points in the nineteen games played.

He averaged a little better than nine points a contest.

Bob Morton, his running mate, pressed him closely for individual scoring honors, tallying 156 points for an average of slightly more than eight per game.

Doak led the team in the matter of field goals with seventy, but Morton nosed him out for high number of fouls shot with forty-two as compared with thirty-seven for his running mate.

Captain Clemans, center, contented to let the forwards do most of the basket-making, came in for third honors however, with sixty-seven points.

Gibney made fifty-two, Higgins, fifty-one; Smittle, thirty-five; Buell, nineteen; Bell, five, and Scurry, three.

Xenia piled up 565 points during the season against opponents' 397 in the nineteen games. This is an average of 29.7 points per game as compared with an average of 20.8 points per contest for the opposition.

The Blue and White squad obtained 215 field goals and 135 fouls. Following is a summary of the individual scoring for the season:

Player. Field. Fouls. T. P. Doak. 70. 37. 177. Morton. 57. 42. 156. Clemans. 23. 21. 67. Gibney. 20. 12. 52. Higgins. 21. 9. 51. Smittle. 14. 7. 35. Buell. 8. 3. 19. Bell. 5. 1. 3. Scurry. 3. 1. 3.

Totals. 215. 135. 565.

Although bowling below normal form, the Green County Lumber Co. won three straight games from the last-place Studabaker Co. in a Recreation League match Tuesday night, thereby increasing its lead in the circuit by one full game.

The league-leaders nosed out a victory in the first game by a bare two pins and capped the second by thirty pins. Losers rolled under a handicap as only three players appeared for the match.

The lumber company's victories were due largely to the fine bowling of Perry Swindler, who put together games of 215, 194 and 211 for a series of 620. Box score:

Gr. Co. L. Co. 160 155 140. Brickel. 154 160 186. Peterson. 128 178 182. Moorehead. 215 194 211. Swindler. 158 158 179. Dice. 158 158 179.

Sport Scribes Pick All-Star League Teams

XENIA PLACES FOUR PLAYERS AMONG TWO OUTFITS SELECTED

Doak And Clemans On First Five Picked By Writers

By PHIL FRAME
Five of the six schools composing the Miami Valley League are represented on the first two mythical all-league basketball teams, picked for the Gazette by the sports writers of newspapers in the six cities.

The all-star teams presented for your approval differ in few respects from those chosen by the coaches of the six schools.

Xenia Central High School, which won the league championship, leads the schools with two players on the first team and two on the second. Piqua takes one place on the first team and one on the second, as does Sidney and Miamisburg. Troy gets one position on the first team, Greenville, which finished last, is the only school that failed to place a man on the all-league teams.

The teams were selected by votes cast by Jack Murray, of the Piqua Daily Call; Jack Miller, of the Troy Daily News; Paul O. Satterfield, of the Miamisburg News; E. C. Amos, of the Sidney Daily News; David Deardourff, of the Greenville Advocate; and Phil of the Xenia Gazette.

There were many fine players in the league this season, and any attempt to select all-league teams must do some of them an injustice. These, however, should meet with general approval.

Collins, of Sidney, is undisputed choice for one forward position on the first team. He was a fine shot and had a "quick break" with a powerful drive for the basket. Doak of Xenia and Babbitt of Piqua tied for the other forward berth, and are consequently considered. They were of the same type and had an unusual amount of cleverness. Babbitt was faster on the floor but perhaps not quite so "steady." Doak was the bright spot in Xenia's season. He was always a marked man but gave a good account of himself, nevertheless.

Captain Clemans, of Xenia, was an outstanding center. He was the most valuable cog in Xenia's machine. Always a strong defensive player, he had a wonderful basketball sense and was a good shot, usually leading his team in scoring. Counts, of Troy, a fast floor man and a good shot, would make a fine running mate for him.

Thus we have a first team that would not only be capable of working the ball down the floor to the forwards but one that would count many points. The team has height, speed, strength and endurance.

The second team is not quite so strong but would still be a formidable combination. Morton of Xenia was a fast forward, and Libbee came the closest, each with twenty-eight out of a possible thirty points. Both had first team and one second team selections.

Heistand, of Miamisburg, a tall, well-built player, would be capable of getting the tip-off often and also good on offense and defense.

Gibney, Xenia, is a coming star on the basis of this season's play and valuable in every department. Taylor, Sidney, rounds out a strong second team.

No player was a unanimous choice for the first team. Collins and Libbee came the closest, each with twenty-eight out of a possible thirty points. Both had first team and one second team selections.

Connie Mack Pleased With Gardeners

Anticipates No Worry From Prima Donnas In Gardens

(Note—This is sixth of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with developments in various major league training camps. Other articles of the series will follow.)

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 13.—Well, it seems there were three men in a boat, if Berton Braley will only pardon me, and they got along so famously that when they lost their cars they all agreed to let the shade row, which reminds me of the fact that Connie Mack also told a good one today. It was about three men in his outfield and the fact that there would be no clash of interests involving Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and Al Simmons, prima donnas all.

This trio represents approximately $100,000 worth of outfielding temperament and between one thing and another, mostly the latter, they might be expected from time to time to regard one another slightly askance or maybe askew. But Mr. Mack said today they wouldn't. It seems that he has solved the problem of pleasing everybody and affronting none by the simple expedient of letting Cobb, Speaker and Simmons go in to a huddle to decide amicably just which of the three fields they prefer to adorn.

"Speaker already has informed me that he stands ready to play left field, if Simmons prefers to remain in center," Mr. Mack said. "However, this is something they will have to settle among themselves. All of them are fine outfielders and fully capable of playing any of the three fields, so any alignment they agree upon will be all right with me."

Frankly, he probably has his own preference, but at that, he likely has decided he would rather have peace in the field than Speaker in center field.

This, if true, takes care of Speaker and Simmons. But Cobb is yet to be placated. He hasn't appeared in camp yet, having been given permission to remain in Augusta until late this week.

The fact of the matter is that Cobb doesn't want to play right field. This isn't mere caprice. He feels that he can give a much better performance in center, an idea that was more or less sustained in 1927. He proved a poor right fielder but a good man in center.

However, as Mr. Mack claims, this isn't a problem he faces. In fact, he has no problems. The outfield is just as sound as it was last year, which means there is really nothing to be done except to let nature take its course. The Athletics had a good club then; they probably have a better one now.

Connie cites four reasons why he thinks this is so, the first is Speaker.

"Tris still is a great ball player," he says, with the fervor of a zealot. "There isn't use of going into details. It is obvious that we can't go wrong on him."

Reason Number 2 is the fact that pennant talk is strictly taboo at this nether end of the peninsula. At least that is that understanding. Maybe the bootlegger comes around on Saturday night with a brief case full of idle gossip, just off the boat, but officially all talk of pennants is out like an ex-communicant.

Reason Number 3 is the fact that Joe Hauser, according to Connie has proved beyond all argument, that he can and will come back as a first baseman. Number 4 takes cognizance of a slow curve Bob Grove is alleged to have added to his fast ball.

Otherwise, the Athletics are much the same ball club. Hauser, a fine first baseman a few years ago, now is said to look better than ever.

Jimmy Dykes is being considered in the utility first baseman, also a utility third baseman in case Sammy Hale, the Texan, fails to click. Another two way utility man is Jimmy Fox. He is third catcher, also third first baseman and third third baseman which probably means that he will get in a ball game at least once a month.

The keystone pair are Max Bishop, the Baltimorean, and Joe Bolger, of Mahanoy City. Edward Trowbridge Collins almost is no more, except as a coach and pinch hitter. This was the infield personnel that Cornelius announced yesterday but today he became maddened over the embryonic ability he had discerned in Joe Hassler, infielder from Fort Smith, Ark., and Waterbury, Conn.

Cobb, Speaker and Simmons form the regular outfield with Walter French, Moorestown, N. J., and Edmund "Bing" Miller of Vinon, Iowa, as reserves. That means that DeWitt LeBeauveau, the much tried-and-found-wanting Placerville, California, outfielder, is going far, far away coach. So is George Haas, up from Atlanta.

Gordon Cochrane and Ralph Perkins are the other regular catchers in addition to Fox.

They are equally strong in pitching with Howard Ehmke and Ed Rommel going particularly well at this moment. The rest of the big shots are Grove, "Jing" Johnson, Bethlehem, Pa., Ossie Orrell, the American Association star left hander and hitter; Jack Quinn, the ancient salivary gland; George Walberg, who has in him to be the best left hander in the league; and old Joe Bush back again where he started many years ago. Two more will be selected from among Claude Jonnard, up again from Milwaukee; Bob Potter, a left handed semi-pick; Lyons, another back lot pick-up; and Bill Shores, from Waco and Lloyd Powers, Hancock, Md. left handers. Powers, Lyons and Shores are leading the way in the juvenile stakes.

HERE'S THE WAY SCRIBES PICKED THEM

FAMOUS AUTOS TAKE SECOND VICTORY FROM BLOOMINGBURG

For the second time in two weeks, the Xenia Famous Auto Five defeated the Bloomingburg Independents 45 to 37 on the latter's floor Tuesday night.

The Xenia quintet merely toyed with the home team and won an easier victory than the score would indicate.

Xenia led 10 to 5 the first quarter and 22 to 11 at the half. Bloomingburg cut down the margin when Xenia relaxed somewhat in the third quarter, which ended in favor of the visitors, 26 to 24.

In the final quarter, Xenia speeded up its game and drew away once more.

Gegner and Smith were the offensive stars for Xenia, the former making eighteen points and the latter seventeen. The Auto Five played without the services of Bill LeSage.

Rogers, substitute forward, was high-scoring for Bloomingburg with seventeen points. H. Parks, the other forward, contributed thirteen markers.

Announcement was made Wednesday that Cedarville College has cancelled its scheduled game with the Auto Five Wednesday night at Central High School gymnasium, because of a last-minute decision of some of the players to enter a team in an independent tournament on the Ross Twp. High School floor, which opened Wednesday.

One week ago the Xenia quintet swamped Bloomingburg on the local floor 65 to 24.

Xenia has arranged to play a return game with the Crystal Tissue team of Middletown next Wednesday night at Central High gym.

Three weeks ago Xenia defeated this team 56 to 47 in a high-scoring game at Middletown. The score: FAMOUS AUTO FIVE, C. F. P. Vannorsdel, f. 2 9 4; Gegner, f. 8 2 18; Smith, c. 8 1 17; Leopold, g. 3 0 9; Yeakley, g. 0 0 0.

Totals: 21 3 45. BLOOMINGBURG, C. F. P. H. Parks, f. 6 1 13; Purcell, f. 1 0 2; Craig, c. 1 0 2; Biddle, g. 0 0 0; Yeoman, g. 0 0 0; Rogers, f. 8 1 17; Butz, g. 1 1 3.

Totals: 17 3 37. Referee—Spencer.

LEROY DOAK LEADS CENTRAL OFFENSE FOR HIGH SCORING

Colored Lad Piles Up 177 Points; Morton Second

Leroy Doak, sharp-shooting colored forward, was high-point man on the Xenia Central High School basketball squad during the season just closed with a total of 177 points in the nineteen games played.

He averaged a little better than nine points a contest.

Bob Morton, his running mate, pressed him closely for individual scoring honors, tallying 155 points for an average of slightly more than eight per game.

Doak led the team in the matter of field goals with seventy, but Morton nosed him out for high number of fouls shot with forty-two as compared with thirty-seven for his running mate.

Captain Clemans, center, contented to let the forwards do most of the basket-making, came in for third honors however, with sixty-seven points.

Gibney made fifty-two, Higgins, fifty-one; Smittle, thirty-five; Buell, nineteen; Bell, five, and Scurry, three.

Xenia piled up 565 points during the season against opponents' 397 in the nineteen games. This is an average of 29.7 points per game as compared with an average of 20.8 points per contest for the opposition.

The Blue and White squad obtained 215 field goals and 135 fouls. Following is a summary of the individual scoring for the season:

Player	Field Goals	T. P.
Doak	70	177
Morton	57	155
Clemans	23	67
Gibney	20	52
Higgins	21	51
Smittle	14	35
Buell	8	19
Bell	1	5
Scurry	1	3

Totals: 215 135 565

Although bowling below normal form, the Greene County Lumber Co. won three straight games from the last-place Studebaker Commoners in a Recreation League match Tuesday night, thereby increasing its lead in the circuit by one full game.

The league leaders nosed out a victory in the first game by a bare two pins and copped the second by thirty pins. Losers rolled under a handicap as only three players appeared for the match.

CARRYING THE BURDEN

The story of the home-town merchant is a story of service, of co-operation, and — of sacrifice.

The failure of a business house in a city such as Xenia amounts to a local tragedy. It is fraught not only with the personal disappointment and discouragement of the merchant because he has failed, but it reacts harmfully upon the community as a whole.

Yet many of these kind of failures, sometimes puzzling as they are to the layman, have their answers written on the pages of the firm ledger where the credits are jotted down. The failure, if the truth were known, should be charged against the people who patronized the store and took advantage of the liberal credit system provided.

When you are sick, out of work, or in financial distress from other causes, do the so-called "mail-order houses" ever contribute to carry you or yours over the period of depression?

How much sympathetic interest in your plight is being shown by the merchants of another city while your neighborhood groceryman is extending you credit at the risk of his own? How many merchants outside of your home town come to your aid by offering you credit and being lenient with the payments when those conditions threaten your home and family?

Here are pertinent questions, too often forgotten when the period of depression has passed, or when the local merchant has been forced into bankruptcy.

When the financial depression struck in 1920 hundreds of old, established retail merchants went to the wall and in every instance it was found that the chief cause of their failure was that they were carrying too many "accounts". Many of them had as high as $10,000 "on the books" and because these customers had been unable to pay their bills in a time of financial stringency, the merchant had to close his doors.

Is it singular that the last few years have shown a big increase in the business of these so-called "mail-order houses"? Or that they gloat over the reverses of the farmers and boast that hard times always bring them the "best pickings"?

When the spirit of reciprocity has saturated the peoples of the earth with the theory of the Golden Rule, perhaps then will such conditions be eliminated.

Xenia merchants, feeling that they are old friends and neighbors of most of their customers, are inclined to give service to the point of sacrifice.

THEFT OF SECOND AUTO CONFESSED

Three colored youths, bound over to the grand jury on grand larceny charges by Mayor John W. Prugh, Saturday, have admitted the theft of an Essex coach, found abandoned by police on N. Detroit St.

The trio, arrested while attempting to steal gasoline from a pump at a filling station, were found to be driving an auto stolen half an hour earlier from Arthur Neatherton, N. Galloway St.

HEALTH HINTS For Parents

The wise mother gives little heed to "diets" for her growing boy or girl, and worries not at all about their bowels. A little fig syrup gives all the help, and has none of the harm that's found in habit-forming laxatives.

Have you a boy or girl whose food doesn't seem to nourish as it should? Let them eat the same things, and just treat them to a daily spoonful of this rich, fruity syrup; watch them gain weight, see how their cheeks fill out and how appetizing and assimilable improve! And a few drops will do remarkable things for an ailing infant. California Fig Syrup is a purely vegetable product, so parents need have no hesitancy in giving it to infants.

California Fig Syrup is not expensive; all dealers charge but sixty cents for a generous bottle. Just make certain that it is the California product; say "California" in asking for it.

Try California Fig Syrup two weeks on any child, and let his altered appearance and actions tell the full story!

WHAT A DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

There IS a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE it.

The next time your bowels need any assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take one of the druggist can assure you is made with CASCARETS. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for the system. Indeed, it helps make good blood. For cascara is nothing but the bark of a tree, the Indians chew this bark, and live to an old age without a day's sickness.

What happens when you cascade the bowels? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One more dose—no larger, and perhaps smaller than the first—and the bowels function of their own accord for a still longer time. Until you don't feel the need of any aid of any sort for weeks on end.

So, the only habit you get from cascara is that of natural and normal regularity. How different from things one must usually repeat on the morrow! Cascara is the ideal laxative; and the familiar little candy cascaret is doubtless its ideal form. Children beg for these tasty tablets, and many men and women wouldn't think of taking ANYTHING else for the purpose. And EVERY drugstore has them. Adv.

WHAT A DOCTOR KNOWS ABOUT CONSTIPATION

There IS a way of overcoming the tendency to constipation. And here is how you can PROVE IT.

The next time your bowels need any assistance, don't take the first laxative that comes to mind. Take one the druggist can assure you is made with CASCARETS. Just as effective as using force, and it's good for the system. Indeed, it helps make good blood. For cascara is nothing but the bark of a tree. The Indians chew this bark, and live to an old age without a day's sickness.

What happens when you cascade the bowels? They will usually function well for SEVERAL DAYS. One more dose—no larger, and perhaps smaller than the first—and the bowels function of their own accord for a still longer time. Until you don't feel the need of any aid of any sort for weeks on end.

So, the only habit you get from cascara is that of natural and normal regularity. How different from things one must usually repeat on the morrow! Cascara is the ideal laxative; and the familiar little candy cascared is doubtless its ideal form. Children beg for these tasty tablets, and many men and women wouldn't think of taking ANYTHING else for the purpose. And EVERY druggist has them. Adv.

You Can Bunk Broadway, But Not Main Street

By SHIRLEY KIRK

International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

Chicago—"Main Street knows its theatrical 'groceries,'" Ethel Barrymore, America's leading actress, says.

"Shows that depend upon indecency for success are 'flops' outside New York City," she says. "They quickly fall by the roadside. Only good plays stand the critical road test."

And Ethel should know whereof she speaks. Not only has she played in every city of the country, but she is one of a theatrical family that has given three generations of stars to the stage. Since infancy the theatre has been her "home" and drama her "fare."

Different Now

The present-day theatre, Miss Barrymore finds, has plenty of "bunk."

"There's a lot," she stated. "But no more, perhaps, than in politics and other professions."

Right there she made it plain that, although "bunk" gets across in New York it fails in smaller cities. "You can bunk Broadway, but not Main Street," was the way this indiscreetly radiant actress puts it. New Yorkers fall for every stage Tom, Dick and Harry that lands from a steamship, she says, if there is enough "ballyhoo" to put him across in the newspapers.

Home Talent

The sad part is that our own good American actors are left out in the cold, according to Miss Barrymore. "We have the best actors and actresses on earth. Why shouldn't we keep these foreigners out? We bring in too many of them."

"I think we should patronize and develop our own native talent—young ambitious girls and boys from our inland cities and towns who pour into Broadway theatrical offices only to find parts taken by outsiders.

Ethel Barrymore (International Newsweek)

Her own children—and there are three—she doesn't mention for stage careers. As we talked sitting in her dressing room, these three bright youngsters, Samuel, Ethel and John Drew, smiled down at us from photographs above the make-up table.

What a pity, I thought, if the Barrymore theatre tradition was not carried on—even through the "bunk" period of our American stage.

READ THIS FIRST:

Jill Justin, ultra-modern at 20, and adorably pretty, is kidnapped by auto bandits, but rescued by Jack S. who takes her home and wins her hand in marriage.

Three wonderfully happy years of married life are allotted Jack and Jill. At their expiration the young couple find themselves the proud parents of twin boys and a girl.

Then the Big Event transpires. Student and Tony Justin are paid $100,000 for an interest in their tungsten mine by Pat Sweeney, father of Mary, whom he has nicknamed "Mike."

Nita Ravelle, a gay divorcee, and Professor Le Tarte, a dancing man, come to town, each with separate identities. They infringe on the domestic tranquility of Jack and Jill. Later reconciliation smooths relations, and for a time all is well.

Nita Ravelle intrigues Jack's presence with her at a gambling and dancing resort. Jill follows, with Mike Sweeney and Le Tarte, and sees Jack and Nita together.

Nita and Jack start back to town. They are kidnapped and taken to a house in the mountains, where Jack writes a note to Jill, telling her to draw $1,000 from the bank and deliver it to bearer, as ransom for his release. Nita gives her personal check. The house is then locked, and they are left alone for the night. As soon as they are alone, Nita begins to play her game—that of stealing the heart of another woman's husband. When morning comes she has not won.

Next day they are released. Jack hurries home and tells he's been kidnapped, but refuses to name his companion. With the affair at the Casino in mind, Jill is suspicious, and refuses his story of abduction. (Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XLVII

"I told Le Tarte that he lied, that I knew my husband wouldn't meet Nita Ravelle at the Casino cabaret. But, just the same, I called Mike Sweeney and asked her to go with me—for I wouldn't, of course, go alone with Le Tarte. She took us in her big limousine, and I sat with Mike going and coming! And I won a thousand dollars at roulette, for I'm lucky at gambling—being unlucky at love!"

And then the rising storm broke, and the rain came down in torrents, and "no woman in the world could be as unhappy as she"—nor any sorrier for herself—for a period of five minutes. At the expiration of this lapse of time Human Nature asserted itself. She declared that "no man in the world was worth crying over." What could be funnier and freer than the gander, she guessed could be the same, thank you, and many more for the goose. So there!

Whereupon Jill made the move—the actual move—that precipitated matters in the domestic workings of the Stuart-Justin home! This precipitation paved the way to a climax more dramatic, more heart-stirring than anything either Jill or Jack had ever seen in real life. That the grand finale was several months in the making, lessened in no way its tragic importance. The events leading up to it kept the principals all very busy.

As stated, Jill made the move. She made it very shortly after her declaration for Fun, Frolic and Freedom on an equal suffrage basis!

"What are you doing?" queried Jack, curiously, as he came out of the bathroom after donning pajamas preparatory for bed to find Jill packing her toilet articles, her own pajamas, and a morning gown in a leather bag.

"I am getting ready to move in with my babies," she made answer, calmly, looking him straight in the eye. "I'm a wee bit particular about sharing my husband with any woman to whom he happens to take a fancy."

His face went white for an instant, a livid, deathly white. Then a crimson flush darkened it. A cry, hoarse, inarticulate, burst from his lips, and his mouth worked grotesquely. She had never seen him like that before, and just for an instant an unnamable fear gripped Jill.

But only for an instant. At the sound of his voice she knew she was in no danger from Jack Stuart. "Jill—my God!"

The ejaculation broke from him in a husky, shaky tone that would have been laughable under other circumstances. In the present instance it was pitiful.

And it may be said in all truth that Jack Stuart was hurt, terribly hurt. There was a frantic look in his eyes, as if he had found himself suddenly on the brink of an awful chasm and felt the edge crumbling under his feet.

"You—can't mean it!" he gulped, lurching forward and catching at a chair. "You can't—mean that—that you're leaving me!"

"I'm leaving this room, Jack—leaving it tonight!" replied Jill, unintentionally dramatizing the situation and herself as well. "You and I are man and wife in name only from now on! A husband who can deliberately go out with another woman, and then virtually acknowledge having been with her all that time, cannot love his wife." He stared at her as if doubting her sanity.

"What are you doing?" queried Jack curiously.

"Jill didn't, of course, realize that she was actually deriving a sort of sub-normal satisfaction from this part she was characterizing—the up-stage part of 'the betrayed wife'."

She didn't know at the moment that it was practically the novelty of the thing that was keeping her keyed up, lending her the false courage to carry her purpose through to fulfillment. That the time would ever come when she would regret with all her heart her act of that night Jill had no intimation then.

"But you—it is you, girl, who are wronging me!" cried Jack, a little wildly, and crossing over to her, he tried to take her in his arms. But Jill Stuart refused to be petted into good humor.

"Listen, Jack!" she said, with a sudden inspiration, holding his gaze with her own. "You say I am wronging you. Very well—we'll see. Will you place your hand over your heart and swear that you did not kiss Nita Ravelle last night? If you didn't kiss her I—I—Will you swear, Jack, that you didn't kiss her?"

She stood awaiting his answer, her heart in her throat, it seemed to her.

"Oh, piffle, Jill!" he exclaimed, assessing a gesture implying large contempt for childish foolishness. "What's the use of all that silly monkey-fiddling business? You wouldn't believe me if I said I didn't!"

She eyed him closely, trying to probe into his mind.

"Jack, I would, too, believe you!" she said, a plaintive note in her voice that struck into his heart. "I know, just as Dad said, that you're not a liar. You will not lie. I know that if you'll place your hand in mine and say: 'As God hears me, Jill, I did not kiss Nita Ravelle last night,' I'll believe you! Not only that, but everything will be forgiven and forgotten, and we'll be just as we were yesterday morning. Will you do it, Jack dear?"

But Jill had spoken only too truly. Jack Stuart would not lie. And he had kissed Nita Ravelle. And yet, what was a little kiss amount to? That was what he had thought the night before. Now he knew it was of tremendous importance—knew that it had laid fair to break up his home.

Slowly the little clock on the mantle clicked away the seconds. With the passing of every second Jill's suddenly kindled hopes faded. She knew—knew positively, at last—she told herself, and then told him she knew. She knew, she said, that her husband was guilty.

And so she moved out of the room—their room—and went in to sleep with her babies—"the flesh of her flesh, and the bone of her bone," whose love was sweet.

A misjudged husband, convicted on circumstantial evidence, is a martyr "of the purest ray serene."

"There is nothing quite so equal the colossal proportions of his piety—His sympathy for himself is beautiful in its heroic idealism. He knows he is wrongfully accused, and so his conscience breathes, and glows with conscious rectitude, swells with honest pride. It purrs. It warms him body and soul and feeds his hungry ego. Long may his piety endure."

Jack Stuart knew that he was the victim of some diabolical conspiracy. What its purpose was he could not fathom. Never for an instant did he suspect that Nita Ravelle might be at the back of the thing. Her conduct during

It might be interesting to people who stagger through this column to know that Emil Jannings was born in Brooklyn, went to Germany with his folks when Herr Papa Jannings made a few marks in American commerce and grew up there in the shadow of the iron hat. He was spared by a kind fate to come to Hollywood and do two of the best jobs of acting you ever saw in your life in "The Way of Flesh," which played at the Regent this week. Although Jannings had a single part it amounted to a dual role for the tragedy of the plot sheared him from the bumptious self-importance of a plodding banker as the barber sheared his proud beard. In his later role Bigou customers believed that his wonderful portrayal of the part as well as the punishment he had gone through had shrived him from the iniquity into which one false step had led him. It must be great to be great.

Here's some personal and confidential glimpses of the film colony: Gary Cooper used to be a newspaper cartoonist. Reginald Denny bought three Sopwith Snipe planes in England, to enter the commercial aviation business in California. Jack Holt is back in the Paramount fold doing "westerns." ## The 4 high-pressure hours must be met energetically

According to recent surveys of business habits, the bulk of the day's work is accomplished in the morning. From 65 to 75 per cent falls between 8:30 and 12:30.

The worker who doesn't feel up to par during these vitally-important hours is cruelly handicapped. The forenoon laggard can never compete with the forenoon worker!

That is why there is a new urge in the business world to pay more attention to breakfast. And more and more people are finding in Quick Mother's Oats the sustaining nourishment that carries them through high-pressure mornings.

Quick Mother's Oats "stands by" you—because it is so rich in vigor-building food-values, in energy materials, in tissue-building proteins, in minerals, vitamins, and bran! No other cereal grown is as well balanced as oats, dietitians say.

Because it is made from the cream of the oat crop, milled by methods developed through 50 years of experience, you find in Quick Mother's Oats a fine, full flavor that ordinary oats do not have. Taste it slowly, critically. You will see at once why what a difference there is in oatmeal. Whether you get the new Quick Mother's Oats, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, or the regular kind—the rich flavor is the same. Start tomorrow to let this hot, nourishing breakfast protect you from "draggy" mornings.

Business accepts no excuses for "draggy" mornings

The 4 high-pressure hours must be met energetically

According to recent surveys of business habits, the bulk of the day's work is accomplished in the morning. From 65 to 75 per cent falls between 8:30 and 12:30.

The worker who doesn't feel up to par during these vitally-important hours is cruelly handicapped. The forenoon laggard can never compete with the forenoon worker!

That is why there is a new urge in the business world to pay more attention to breakfast. And more and more people are finding in Quick Mother's Oats the sustaining nourishment that carries them through high-pressure mornings.

Quick Mother's Oats "stands by" you—because it is so rich in vigor-building food-values, in energy materials, in tissue-building proteins, in minerals, vitamins, and bran! No other cereal grown is as well balanced as oats, dietitians say.

Because it is made from the cream of the oat crop, milled by methods developed through 50 years of experience, you find in Quick Mother's Oats a fine, full flavor that ordinary oats do not have. Taste it slowly, critically. You will see at once why what a difference there is in oatmeal. Whether you get the new Quick Mother's Oats, which cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes, or the regular kind—the rich flavor is the same. Start tomorrow to let this hot, nourishing breakfast protect you from "draggy" mornings.

The Smoothness and Snap That All America is Demanding

There's no longer any doubt about it. America is demanding more and more from its automobiles. More power... more style... more speed. And above all else... more smoothness and snap.

Smoothness that brings to driving new pleasures and new delights. Snap that responds to the traffic signal as a sprinter responds to the gun. Smoothness and snap that you know are the very essence of motoring satisfaction. Smoothness and snap that you find revealed in the All-American Six.

You find them there because of Oakland's big, impressive brute of an engine which starts so easily 'way below zero. Because of its famous GMR cylinder head... force feed fuel pump... 79-lb. crankshaft... generously oversize connecting rods and other vital parts.

Because of its ruggedly constructed chassis... its bigger clutch and smoothly shifting gears... and the super-precision construction demanded in the All-American principle of design.

Once you've experienced its smoothness... once you've witnessed its snap... you'll know why the All-American Six is winning such tremendous success!
